

Bēgļi mūsu bibliotēkās?

Uldis Zariņš

Latvijas Nacionālā bibliotēka

LatLib17, Rīga, 13.10.2015

Kāpēc?

Vispārējā cilvēktiesību deklarācija

14. pants

(1) Katram cilvēkam ir tiesības meklēt patvērumu no vajāšanas citās valstīs un izmantot šo patvērumu.

19. pants

Katram cilvēkam ir tiesības uz pārliecības brīvību un tiesības brīvi paust savus uzskatus; šīs tiesības ietver brīvību netraucēti palikt pie saviem uzskatiem un brīvību meklēt, saņemt un izplatīt informāciju un idejas ar jebkuriem līdzekļiem neatkarīgi no valstu robežām.

IFLA Publisko bibliotēku manifests

Publisko bibliotēku pakalpojumiem jābūt pieejamiem visiem, neatkarīgi no viņu rases, dzimuma, reliģiskās piederības, tautības vai sociālā statusa.

KĀ?

- In response to the waves of refugees from Africa and the Middle East arriving in the Italian island, Lampedusa, IBBY launched the project “Silent Books, from the world to Lampedusa and back” in 2012. The project involved creating the first library on Lampedusa to be used by local and immigrant children.
- The joint initiative "Books say welcome" aims to give refugees quick and easy access to educational and reading material. At the core of the programme is the establishment, through LitCam, of Reading and Learning Corners in the immediate vicinity of refugee housing.

We have books in a lots of languages and also books that are easy to read for both kids and adults. In addition there are activities for the whole family, such as a language café and a number of storytimes told in several languages and for kids in different ages. And of course you can use our computers and studyplaces, so please share this, and welcome!

/Linköpings stadsbibliotek

- Free access to computers and wifi
- Free access to materials to learn English, and access to physical and online resources in other languages (Including Welsh in Wales)
- Free activities and reading resources for children and families
- Trained workforce who can help with access to information and resources
- Community space to use for learning and networking
- Signposting to local education, health and wellbeing services
- Signposting to other Council services
- Signposting to community organisations and resources
- Tours of the library and all services offered